

Clifford Pollard

1. The kinds of writing assignments I have done in recent years were related to computer programming.

2. The greatest challenge I have faced when writing in the past is writer's block.

3. Current subjects that I am most passionate about are law, computer programming, and politics. I'm passionate about these subjects because they challenge me mentally.